

HORIZON AIR Fokker F28-100 Fellowship

As a competitor to Cascade in the Pacific Northwest, Horizon Air commenced scheduled flights on September 1, 1981 linking Seattle and Yakima with their F-27. Horizon grew fast. It acquired Air Oregon in 1982 and Transwestern Airlines in 1983. In order to stay competitive to Cascade's 1-11s, Horizon Air introduced their first F28 jet in early 1985.
